DEFINITION

What is friendship?

Friendship is a chosen bond. It is not assigned like family, and it does not have to be the center of the story like romance. It is the decision to keep showing up.

Chosen

We pick our friends, and they pick us back.

Mutual

Both people give time, honesty, and care.

Everyday

It lives in walks, messages, and shared silence.

WHY IT MATTERS

A life is lighter with witnesses

Health

Close friendships are linked with lower stress and a longer, healthier life.

Belonging

Friends give us a place to be unfinished without losing respect.

Courage

Someone who believes in us makes hard choices easier to try.

Joy

Good news needs a person who will be glad without competing.

QUALITIES

What a good friend does

Trust

Keeps what you said in confidence.

Honesty

Tells the kind truth, not empty praise.

Loyalty

Stays when the season is inconvenient.

Respect

Does not try to own your time or choices.

Humor

Makes the hard day shorter.

Repair

Comes back after a mistake and talks.

KINDS

Friends wear different weather

The old friend

Shared childhood or school. You can start mid-sentence after months apart.

The everyday friend

Work, class, or the same street. They know your Tuesday face.

The honest friend

The mirror. They tell you when you are being small.

The joyful friend

Turns a dull evening into a story you will retell.

The distant friend

Another city. Voice notes and rare visits still count.

The new friend

New does not mean thin. Some bonds start fast and stay.

PROCESS

How a friendship is built

1

Meet

A class, a kitchen, a comment that lands.

2

Risk

Someone says the unpolished thing first.

3

Rhythm

Walks, calls, small rituals on the calendar.

4

Weather

The first hard season: a fight, a move, illness.

5

Keep

You repair. You return. That is the secret.

QUOTES

People who said it in fewer words

“What is a friend? A single soul dwelling in two bodies.”

Aristotle

“Friendship improves happiness and abates misery, by the doubling of our joy and the dividing of our grief.”

Cicero

“A friend may be waiting behind a stranger’s face.”

Maya Angelou

“Friendship is born at that moment when one person says to another: What! You too?”

C. S. Lewis

PRACTICE

Four things you can do this week

1. Send the unfinished thought

   “I saw this and thought of you” is a complete message.

2. Ask one better question

   Try: “What is taking most of your mind this week?”

3. Repair a small tear

   The late text. The late apology. Still better than silence.

4. Protect one recurring hour

   A monthly call or a Sunday walk outlasts moods.

THANK YOU

Keep a seat empty on purpose.

The best friendships are not collected. They are tended.
